COMINGS AND GOINGS

Art of the Tamada

Nov. 2023

01

To your arrival. In Georgia they say a guest is a gift from God. We're grateful to have you with us for this joyous weekend, may you arrive safely with an open heart!

Light breakfasts exist in your rooms (coffee and snacks). But if you want more, head over to Midway Cafe. It's out front and to the right for a hardy breakfast. They also will provide us with lunches. (Breakfast there is not included, be aware).

8:30am
Boating trips begin. There will be three 2.5 hour trips during the day. Sign up sheets are in your room with trip times you can select. Our captain can accommodate six at a time.

5:00pm
First Symposium (A): The Foundations of the Supra, The Highest Things

6:15pm
Second Symposium (B): Hospitality as Medicine with Nick Kotar.

Symposiums are out in front of the water not far from the pool.

8:00pm
Our first big Georgian feast: The Supra (you'll see the table set up near the pier. Bring an appetite for food and wine. And be ready to toast.

02

To new friends. Every time we meet someone new it's an encounter with an entire universe: a history, a personality, unique joys and sufferings. May we see God with each new friend we meet.

Light breakfasts in-room with Midway Cafe as an option for those that need something a little more substantial to start their day.

8:30am
Boating trips begin. Same as yesterday - check the sign-up sheets for times and availability.

5:00pm
Third Symposium (C): Being a Tamada: The Rules of the Supra, The Deep Down Dirty Things.

6:15pm
Second Symposium (D): What is Wine? with Jonathan Pageau and Neil DeGraide

8:00pm
Our second Supra of the weekend. This is where the natural parts of the table live in the most natural parts of our souls.

HOSPITALITY

03

To your departure. We wish you a safe journey home and hope the things you learned will stay with you and inspire your own community. Go forth and make a toast!

Light breakfasts in-room with Midway Cafe as an option for those that need something a little more substantial to start their day.

9:30am
Orthodox Readers Service offered in unit 27 for those interested. Fr. Silhouan will be leading us.

11:00am
Check out for all non-Monday guests. Luggage and gear may be stored until your ready to leave.

A FTF van will leave for Miami in the morning and all Miami/ Lauderdale flyers are welcome to join us.

Spontaneous table supra for lunch... If you gotta go, you gotta go. For those who are sticking around we will do another table. This one is a Keipi which means less formal, but just as much fun.

Sunday night is open for relaxation with nothing planned for those who stay. Officially Art of Tamada comes to an end at checkout on Sunday.
